

War Death Toll Lowest in Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. military headquarters reported today that 380 Americans were killed in combat in Vietnam last week, the lowest toll in five weeks.

The number of Americans wounded in action was 2,739, more than 1,000 less than the previous week and about equal to the weekly figure for the month of May.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 392 government soldiers were killed last week and 156 were wounded, compared with 345 killed and 1,163 wounded the week before.

The two allied commands reported 2,134 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers killed last week, the lowest enemy toll since the week ending April 27 when 2,110 dead were reported, the drop reflected a general slackening in ground fighting as monsoon storms hit some sections of South Vietnam.

The 380 Americans killed were 58 less than the week before. It was the lowest figure since the week ending May 4, when 383 U.S. dead were reported.

New Way to Solve Parking

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles has a new way to battle parking problems—a raised, portable structure that can be assembled over a parking lot to add space for about 200 cars to its capacity.

At dedication ceremonies Wednesday, one official hailed the $184,000 portable parking lot as the "world's first demountable parking structure."

Deer Got Into Swim of Things

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP) — A deer that got into the swim of things off one of Lake Michigan's liveliest beaches was rescued by the Coast Guard Wednesday.

Two boats carrying conservation workers rescued the deer from possible injury by boating fans. She was hauled aboard a boat, given a tranquilizer and taken to a park.

Crank Lashed for Role in Legislature

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Wednesday accused Rep. Marion Crank of Foreman of showing a lack of responsibility during the May special session of the legislature.

The governor said he felt Crank, a Democratic candidate for governor, should have helped him get his modest tax program through the special session.

"If he is my opponent in November, we'll talk more about it," Rockefeller said in an address to the Girls State convention here.

Rockefeller said that in spite of all things said about the legislators, they passed many parts of his program in the regular session and the first special session in February.

He said the second special session, however, was "less than responsive" and he called the legislators' action "pure politics."

Rockefeller also told the group that he is convinced that the state must use its credit to improve its schools and highways.

Every adult takes advantage of credit for one thing or another, Rockefeller said, and "it's foolish not using our credit."

He said that Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., had bragged about Arkansas' low bonded debt but that "similarly we have got some of the loudest roads and our schools are not as good (as they should be)."

Rockefeller got a good response from the audience when he told them he was in favor of lowering the voting age to 18.

"I personally have felt that anyone who is old enough to defend his country is old enough to have some part in the formation of the kind of country he is defending," he said.

Rockefeller said he hoped he could get his listeners as excited about the state's future as he is.

He said today's leaders need the help of youth in trying to see how they want their country built.

In Toronto, where Ray went after the killing of King, police continued to look for a fat man who reportedly delivered an envelope to him.

The Toronto Star said in a copyright story that a cab driver reported picking up "a big fat man" May 2 across the street from the rooming house where Ray was staying.

The cab driver, Manuel Reis, 35, said he drove the man and an unidentified companion to a bank three blocks away, the Star reported.

that helped us," said Mrs. H. J. Autrey, one of the hostages released after the agreements were worked out.

The end of the dramatic, 28-hour ordeal came on Mrs. Autrey's 50th birthday. "I'll never forget this birthday as long as I live," she exclaimed.

Mrs. Autrey, a secretary, was one of the 25 persons first held hostage. Four were released earlier, one to take the list of grievances to Blackwell who talked by radio with the inmates throughout Tuesday night and Wednesday morning seeking a settlement.

The hostages walked unharmed from the prison into bright sunshine. Some were dazed, calling the experience a "nightmare." Others said their four captors were courteous and considerate.

In a surprise move, the FBI immediately arrested the fiancée of Lepiscope on charges of smuggling two pistols, ammunition and hacksaw blades into the maximum security prison Sunday.

The arrest of Miss Arlene Anna Granito, 25, a native of Newark, N. J., came only minutes after the inmates agreed to surrender and tossed their two revolvers from a second story window of the prison.

Prison officials said Lepiscope was serving 20 years for bank robbery; Leister of Portsmouth Va., 15 years for bank robbery with assault; Gorman, Kings Park, N.Y., 30 years for bank robbery; and Neighbors, El Monte, Calif., 120 years for kidnapping and murder on a government reservation.

the Marines says "the big dying" along the DMZ started about the time preliminary peace talks opened in Paris last month.

After the talks were agreed to American troops facing the North Vietnamese frontier across the once-neutral buffer zone suffered more dead and wounded than in any previous month of the war. But no up to date figures are available.

Understandably, many Leath-erneckers are cynical about the talks, which seem to them to be going nowhere.

After doctors treated his wounds at a forward hospital, Barnes said: "For us the peace talks are just a big joke. We can't think of them in any other way. They are not going anywhere. I know I'll finish my tour and be home long before the fighting stops."

Unit commanders, asked about the morale of their men, said they found it continued to be high.

Pfc. John Panichella, Greensburg, Pa., said: "My best friend got killed here recently but I plan to extend my tour. These people need help over here and we can't quit now. It would make our country look as bad as France (which lost the Indochina war)."

Nixon Refuses Challenge to Debate

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has rejected a challenge from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to meet in a nationally televised debate.

Nixon, generally considered the frontrunner for the Republican presidential nomination, said Wednesday such a debate "would only serve the Democrats by promoting divisive tendencies among Republicans."

The former vice president made the comment through a spokesman after flying back from an unannounced vacation in the Bahamas. He was under rigid security guard.

Rockefeller had issued the challenge earlier in the day during a campaign appearance in Los Angeles. He said he would "accept immediately" if one of the networks offered time for a debate with Nixon.

Nixon aides said the former vice president's disinclination to debate was not related to his televised confrontation with the late President John F. Kennedy in 1960.

Their debate is widely regarded as one of the chief reasons Nixon lost that election.

open the treaty for signature, sign it, seek senatorial ratification and scrupulously carry it out.

"We shall, as the treaty requires," he declared, "facilitate the fullest possible exchange of equipment, materials, scientific and technical information for the peaceful uses of nuclear energy. . . . We shall share. . . nuclear explosions for peaceful purposes. . . ."

"Finally, in keeping with our obligations under the treaty, we shall, as a major nuclear power, promptly and vigorously pursue negotiations on effective measures to halt the nuclear arms race and to reduce existing nuclear arsenals. . . ."

The treaty was sponsored by three of the five nuclear powers — the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. France boycotted the long negotiations in Geneva which produced the draft, and Red China continuously assailed it as a Soviet-American plot to preserve their nuclear dominance. But the treaty got support Wednesday from French Delegate Armand Berard, who told the assembly that although his government would not sign the pact, it would behave "exactly like those states that decided to adhere to it."

French Ban Keeps Paris Quieter

By DAVID MASON
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The French government's ban on street demonstrations gave Paris a quiet night, but disturbances in some provinces kept police busy. In three cities students demonstrated Wednesday night without police interference.

Police used tear gas to scatter demonstrators in Strasbourg and Poitiers. But in Marseille, Bordeaux and Caen students paraded with shouts of defiance against President Charles de Gaulle, and the police did not go into action.

The rebellious students at the University of Paris called off a demonstration after De Gaulle's government warned that all street demonstrations would be "pitilessly dispersed." The government also ordered dissolution of seven extremist student groups.

The ban on street demonstrations is to remain in effect until the end of the National Assembly election June 23 and 30. The government cracked down after two days of mounting violence in which two workers were killed.

Exact Change for Transit Co.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Starting today, it's token, exact change or walk for would-be patrons of Baltimore Transit Co. buses.

The requirement of 25 cents in exact change or the token was ordered by the Metropolitan Transit Authority after bus drivers refused to carry the $65 in cash provided by the transit company.

Bus service was halted one day last week and curtailed on two other days when drivers reacted to a rash of robberies, one of which resulted in the shooting death of a driver.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — James Stewart recently ended a 27-year career with a rare distinction: the Air Force's Distinguished Service Medal.

It was only the second time that the honor had been bestowed on a Reserve officer. The citation said that "the singularly distinctive accomplishments of Gen. Stewart culminated a long and distinguished career in the service of his country and reflect the highest credit upon himself and the U.S. Air Force."

Having retired from the service at 60, Jimmy Stewart returned from the Washington ceremonies and indulged in some rare reflection on his years with the Air Force. Actually, it was the Army Air Corps when he was drafted on March 22, 1941, Stewart took his training at Moffett Field, Calif., was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942, went to England in 1943, flew 20 combat missions over Germany and left active duty as a colonel in 1945.

Stewart explained why he chose to remain in the Air Force Reserve: "I got a lot out of my experience in the service during the war; I think that experience helped make me a better civilian. I was greatly impressed with the caliber of men I met and worked with, and I wanted to continue that relationship."

For the next 23 years, the actor spent two or three weeks a year on active duty, including two visits to Vietnam. His most memorable experience, he said, was working with Gen. Curtis E. LeMay during the formative period of the Strategic Air Command. In addition to his active duty, Stewart made numerous appearances for the Air Force, in person and on film and television.

He conceded that some highly vocal segments of today's society are antimilitary, but he said that such expressions are common in peacetime.

"When I was a kid, military people were tucked away on a base somewhere; they never took part in any of the civic functions," he remarked. "If a boy ran off and joined the Army, he was considered to be a failure."

"Now the military is very much a part of our society, and I think that's a good thing. I find the caliber of military personnel is very high. You find among them a tough-mindedness and spirit to do the job correctly."

"The service academies aren't just technical schools any more; they're now stressing the humanities and the liberal arts. The Air Force Academy produces as many Rhodes Scholars as any university in the United States. That's a pretty good indication that it is producing not just leaders, but scholars."

"Yes, I know a lot of people say, 'The military's only purpose is to make war—to kill.' I don't believe that."

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MR. AND MRS. WARNER T. SMITH

The marriage of Miss Carol Jane Porter, daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. Eldon C. Porter of Washington, and Warner Thomas Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warner T. Smith of Louann, was solemnized at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 4 in the Washington Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Porter, father of the bride, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before an altar with an arrangement of white gladioli, asters, and chrysanthemums on the pulpit stand flanked by seven-branched candelabra holding white tapers with asters, greenery, and pink satin ribbon bows. The family pews were marked with pink satin bows. Jim Porter, brother of the bride, lighted the candles.

Mrs. Moss Rowe, pianist, presented the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Carla Grace Martin, soloist.

Given in marriage by her brother, David Porter of Keithville, La., the bride wore a street-length dress of white linen with white lace trim on the sleeves and down the front of the dress. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a small crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. David Porter, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor and only attendant. Her dress of pink silk crepe was street-length fashioned with long sleeves and a high neckline. She wore a small pink hat and carried an arrangement of pink and white mums.

Don Smith of Smackover, cousin of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were Timothy and Daniel Porter, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Porter, mother of the bride, wore a dress of gold brocade with matching accessories. Mrs. Smith, mother of the bridegroom, chose a dress of mint green eyelet embroidery with matching accessories. Each had a corsage of yellow roses.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church annex. The table was covered with white overlaid with a white lace cloth. It was centered with an arrangement of white asters. Miss Carla Martin poured the punch, and Miss Margaret Etter served the three-tiered white cake. They were assisted by Mrs. H. L. Pinegar and Mrs. W. H. Etter, hostesses.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Jim Yancy and children of Tex., Mrs. Don Smith of Smackover, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bratton of Louann.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Hope High School, and the bridegroom received his degree this spring from the University of Arkansas. They will be at home in Shreveport, where he is employed as a chemical engineer of Skelly Oil Company.

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said here Wednesday that there is no "widespread chronic hunger" in Arkansas.

Blaylock, appearing before a Senate labor subcommittee, said Arkansas does have poverty, and that nine counties have median family income well below the $3,000 level, but that malnutrition may exist at any economic level.

"People choose foods they have long been accustomed to and simply wish to live poor — eating fatback, beans, cornbread and molasses or syrup," Blaylock said.

Burrud: "Animal Secrets," a series he has been building up for the past 10 years, will have its network premiere, it replaces "College Bowl" on NBC during the vacation period, and starts with what Burrud thinks is one of the most dramatic sights of the world. It concerns the annual mass migration of more than a million animals from the Serengeti Plain to the Ngorongoro Crater in Africa at the beginning of the rainy season.

Burrud, who began as a child actor and has been an independent producer and narrator of syndicated travel shows, believes that true adventures are infinitely more exciting than fiction. He points to ABC's undersea series by Jacques Cousteau and CBS' National Geographic Society specials as evidence.

"What could be more exciting than seeing animals, many of them natural enemies, moving together without conflict for more than 500 miles?" Burrud asked. "Everything from lions to gazelles and cheetahs. Hell, it may even make the public think more about conserving these creatures."

German Reds Charge Fee for Visas

By HUBERT ERB
Associated Press Writer

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany began collecting $1.25 visa fees today from West Germans traveling overland to West Berlin as the United States, Britain and France denounced the travel restrictions.

West Germans previously were able to travel to Communist-surrounded West Berlin with their identity cards, but under the new regulations announced Tuesday they must pay visa fees and will have to obtain passports by June 15.

Unlike the visa procedure in many countries, the process at the border checkpoint was brief and required no advance application. In the absence of passports, the visas were stamped on the travelers' identity cards.

The East Germans also have imposed new taxes on goods shipped between West Germany and West Berlin.

The three western World War II allies who still are the occupation powers in West Berlin planned official protests to the Soviet Union. They said the East German measures were "contrary to long-standing international agreements and practice, tending to deepen the division of Germany and Europe."

West German and allied officials viewed the regulations as another East German attempt to deny the sovereignty which West Germany claims over West Berlin.

West German Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger planned to fly to West Berlin today to assure its 2.5 million citizens of West German moral and financial backing. The West German Cabinet said it would increase subsidies to the city to offset anticipated economic losses. Some Germans consider the restrictions the biggest threat to the city's economy since the 11-month Berlin blockade in 1948-49.

The Bonn government estimated the new taxes and visa fees would total more than $15.5 million yearly. Western sources said they violate the May 12, 1949, four-power agreement which ended the Berlin blockade.

Way Sought to Counter Restrictions

By EUGENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
BONN (AP) — Representatives of the United States, West Germany, Britain and France are seeking ways to counter new restrictions placed by Communist East Germany on West Germans traveling to Berlin.

Some West German commentators called the East German action the most serious threat to access to West Berlin since the 11-month Berlin Blockade by the Russians in 1948-49.

East Germany announced Tuesday night it will require West Germans for the first time to have passports and visas for train, road and water travel between West Germany and Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

The regulations appeared to be a new assertion of East German sovereignty and of the Communist regime's defiance of the Bonn government's claim that it is the only representative German government.

The East Germans also announced hikes in overland transit fees and freight taxes.

There was no indication of interference with official traffic of the three Western allies, which is controlled by the Russians as the other occupation power, or with air traffic to West Berlin, which is controlled by the occupation powers.

A meeting of U.S., West German, British and French representatives in the American Embassy lasted until 1 a.m. today. An anticipated joint allied protest to the Soviet Union was not announced.

Up to now, West Germans going to West Berlin by surface routes have traveled on their West German identity cards, ADN, the official East German news agency, said the West Germans would have until July 15 to get passports.

Increases in transit fees become effective June 20 and freight taxes on July 1, ADN said.

Visiting U.S. Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow called the East German action "a serious situation" and said such a change from the present pattern cannot be tolerated.

The East Germans said the new regulations were necessary because of neo-Nazism and revenge-seeking in West Germany and because of the passage of the new state of emergency laws in West Germany.

Romney Is Doing the Opposite

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. George Romney, who urged for months that Republican governors unite early behind one presidential candidate, is doing precisely the opposite now by keeping Michigan's delegation uncommitted.

"What we're doing is realistic now," Romney said in an interview. "I'm not going to bat my head against a wall."

The wall to which he referred is the gubernatorial indecision that helped crush his own campaign for the nomination.

Romney is determined to hold the bulk of the state's 48 votes away from either Richard M. Nixon or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the present.

The object, he says, is to await developments, candidate statements on major issues and pre-convention polls.

Romney, who controls the delegation as a favorite son, insists that no consideration of any job he might get in a national Republican administration will enter into what the Michigan delegation eventually does.

Would he consider running for vice president?

"I don't know," the governor replied. "I'm not certain you can deal with the problems of this country effectively (in that job) and make as much of a contribution as you'd like to make."

Thus far Romney has won general endorsement from party leaders and delegates for an uncommitted delegation. However, the state's lieutenant governor and the majority leader of the state Senate are spearheading moves to win support for Rockefeller and Nixon, respectively, when Romney abandons his favorite-son candidacy.

The key question is how much of the delegation Romney will be able to deliver when he makes his own decision.

Loyalty to the three-term governor is strong among most of the Republican organization—and the national convention delegation is almost completely

Better Get an Electric Razor

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A Miami judge ordered probation Tuesday for a woman charged with putting an eight-inch gash across her husband's chest with a single-edge razor blade. The judge advised the husband: "You had better get an electric razor."

McCarthy Eyes State Delegates

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, resuming his campaign for president, is eyeing delegate prospects at Democratic state conventions.

In his first campaigning activity since Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination the Minnesota senator scheduled a Washington news conference for today.

With the primaries over, except for contests next week for 123 district delegates from New York, McCarthy is turning his attention to state Democratic conventions and to delegates already selected.

His aim will be to convince them he would be a stronger standard-bearer than Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

After a New York City appearance and a speech Thursday night McCarthy heads west for weekend appearances in Idaho and Montana, where Democratic conventions are taking place, and in Arizona, for the Western States Democratic Conference.

Aides indicated McCarthy would continue to stress the need for a change from the policies of the Johnson administration, which he claims would be carried on by Humphrey, his front-running rival for the Democratic nomination.

At the same time, aides say, McCarthy is banking on indications from public opinion polls that Humphrey would have difficulty defeating the likely GOP nominee, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

For the next three weeks, McCarthy is likely to have the field pretty much to himself on the Democratic side. Humphrey, at his lakeside home in Waverly, Minn., does not plan to return to Washington for a week and has no scheduled appearances before July 4, aides said.

McCarthy spent much of Tuesday in his Senate office, conferring with supporters who filed in and out of the office under the watchful eyes of two Secret Service men. McCarthy is one of the candidates given Secret Service protection following the Kennedy shooting.

Later, he went to the White House for a briefing on domestic and international matters from President Johnson. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking the Republican presidential nomination, had a similar briefing Monday.

Johnson and McCarthy discussed the Vietnam war, Paris peace talks, the economy, taxes and other issues.

"The conversations were pleasant," said White House aide Tom Johnson.

Two Licenses Revoked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two insurance companies with home offices in St. Louis have had their licenses to operate in Arkansas revoked, state Insurance Commissioner Allan Horne said Tuesday.

The firms are the Insurance Co. of St. Louis and the St. Louis Flee and Marine Insurance Co.

Horne said this action was taken because of the worsening financial condition of the firms.

an organization slate.

On the first ballot, as a favorite son, Romney is almost sure to get 44 or more votes. Up to four, from two conservative anti-Romney congressional districts, could go to Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Rockefeller now seems to have the upper hand in private leanings among the delegates, and he's all but sure to have an edge if he gets a Romney endorsement.

Romney won't say who he leans toward, but other party leaders think he will eventually go to Rockefeller if Nixon hasn't clearly sewed up the nomination.

Rockefeller was among the first backers of Romney's short-lived candidacy. Republican leaders, however, think the governor is more likely to be swayed by Rockefeller's past involvement with urban problems.

These leaders also indicated they think Romney will conclude that Nixon can't make a dent in Detroit's Negro vote.

Postal Gun Ruling Is Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association has questioned the legality of a Post Office Department move to curb the traffic in mail order guns.

But if past practice holds and the early reaction of those who deal with weapons is any indication, it appears likely that it will be business as usual for the gun mail order houses until—and unless—Congress enacts stiffer controls.

Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson announced new postal rules Wednesday under which packages containing guns will not be accepted for mailing unless clearly labeled "Firearms."

Further, he said, delivery of firearms will be held up until the chief law enforcement officer of the community to which the package is addressed is notified.

Watson also announced sawed-off shotguns and short-barreled rifles will be banned from the mails under "concealed weapons" regulations unless addressed to authorized law enforcement or military personnel.

"I don't think this will solve the problem," said Harold Gardenswartz, a prominent New Mexico sporting goods executive. "I think people who commit crimes steal guns."

A postal department spokesman said Watson's ban, announced in a National Press Club speech and intended to go into effect immediately, will apply to guns "26 inches in length or which have the characteristics of a concealed weapon."

Pistols were not included because they have been banned from the mails for years, the spokesman said.

Harold W. Glassen, president of the NRA, told a news conference later that he questioned whether Watson had the authority to hold up mail delivery of guns, particularly to states that have no laws restricting the purchase of firearms. Most states don't.

"That can be tested in the courts. Let's see," said the department spokesman.

Watson also urged private express companies to follow the department's lead.

Such firms are free to deliver pistols now. But they would be restricted from selling handguns across state lines under a section of the omnibus crime control bill which was passed quickly after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and awaits presidential action.

President Johnson has not indicated whether he will sign the bill now before him. But he has said it should have included an interstate sales ban on shoulder weapons as well as pistols and the administration already has introduced a new bill.

Ten senators, headed by Maryland Democrat Joseph D. Tydings, introduced a still stricter measure Wednesday that would go far beyond what Johnson has called for. It would provide for registration and licensing of all firearms.

Injuries From Fall Fatal

MONROE, La. (AP) — A 19-year-old Junction City, Ark., youth died here Tuesday of injuries she received Thursday when she fell out of a pickup truck.

Police said Miss Sandra Bailey was riding in the bed of a truck driven by Mike Morton, 15, also of Junction City when she fell from the truck.

The accident occurred on Arkansas 15, about 15 miles southwest of El Dorado.

WATCH YOUR PITCH

NEW YORK (AP) — Learning to speak a foreign language well depends a good deal on how you listen to the sounds of the language, says Leonard M. Tompkins, Pace College professor of foreign languages.

In Vietnamese, for example, a single sound word like NAM may mean south, nails, barren, hear, five, to hold a fistful of material or to lie down.

The meaning is determined by the pitch of your voice.

Judge Says He Can't Spend Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mississippi County Judge A. A. Banks said Tuesday he could not legally administer emergency federal aid to neighboring Poinsett and Craighead counties.

Washington officials of the Office of Economic Opportunity charged last Friday that Banks was blocking the release of $40,000 in aid to Craighead families stricken by a tornado last month which killed 34 persons, and of $25,164 awaiting distribution for emergency food and medical aid to persons in Poinsett County who suffer malnutrition.

Banks said he had not met with Washington officials as reported earlier and he said the regional officials had assured him that the programs in the three counties would not be affected by his refusal to administer them.

He said federal officials had attempted to persuade him to administer the programs in the other counties, and said he thought the subsequent charges were an attempt to pressure him into assuming additional administrative jobs.

Under a recent amendment to federal laws, counties with 50,000 or more population may conduct their own antipoverty programs rather than enter agreements with other counties. Banks said this is what his county's community action board elected to do.

"The officials of those counties are in a much better position to serve the needy and indigent than are people in another," Banks said.

"I am sure the Craighead County people would rather administer it themselves," he said.

Commission Director to Be Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Prosecutor David Hodges of Newport, chairman of the Governor's Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement, said Tuesday he hoped to announce within 10 days a new commission director.

Hodges said several people are being considered for the $15,000-a-year job.

Former State Police Director Lynn A. Davis was the first director of the commission, but he resigned in May to run for secretary of state. The commission was created by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller last March.

Hodges said the commission was in the first phase of its work—evaluation of the present system of dealing with crime.

He said the second phase will be to decide what changes are needed and draft proposals, and the third will be execution.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Hot Springs officials continued to probe for answers Tuesday that would make the city more attractive for tourists.

The city has been entertaining a program to revitalize Hot Springs as a tourist attraction since the city's nightlife was quieted.

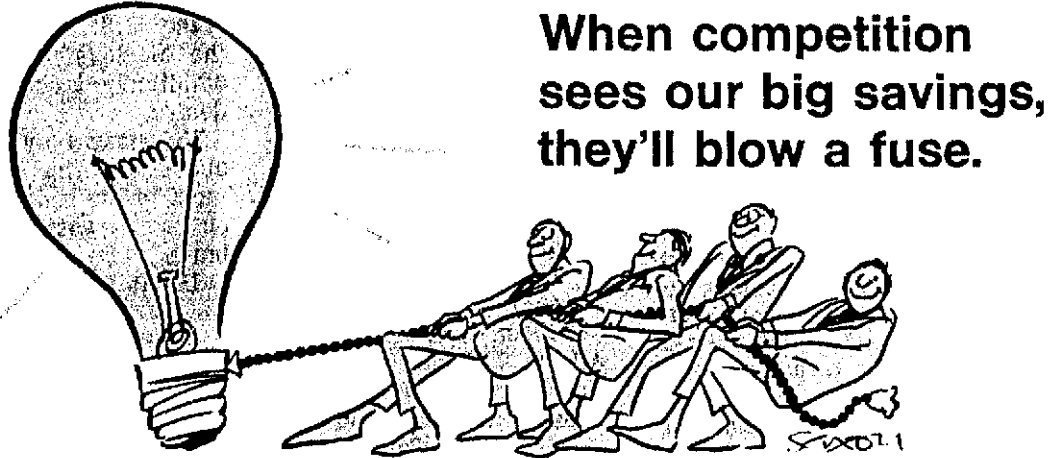

City officials met with officials of the National Park Service here Tuesday and explored the possibility of changing the status of Hot Springs National Park to a recreational park.

Robert McIntyre, assistant to the regional director of the park service, said the transition of the 1,000-acre park into a recreation facility would require an act of Congress.

The proposal is designed to make the park's usage more flexible so it could better conform with the planned revitalization program. Other proposals previously announced included construction of a boardwalk, a minirail, a skyride, covered walkways, plazas and a waterfall.

Tigers Up Lead to Five Games

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The American League isn't waiting for next year's expansion to go to two divisions. They've got two right now.

And that's too bad for devotees of tight pennant races because the real battle seems to be for fourth place.

The pace-setting Detroit Tigers, who haven't won a flag since 1945, boosted their lead to five games over idle Baltimore and 5 1/2 over Cleveland with a 2-1 victory over Minnesota Wednesday night.

Those first three teams make up the first division—realistically, if not literally.

Minnesota, 10 games back, heads the seven also-rans and there's only a three-game gap between the Twins and last-place Washington. In fact, the Twins are only one percentage point ahead of Oakland, with Boston another point back. Who says there's no race?

In the only other Wednesday night action, Oakland drubbed Cleveland 7-0. The Baltimore-Washington and Chicago-New York single games and the California-Boston twi-nighter were rained out.

In the National League, Atlanta routed St. Louis 7-1, San Francisco topped Pittsburgh 4-2, the New York Mets edged Los Angeles 2-1 and the Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 4-1. Rain washed out the Houston-Philadelphia contest.

Dick McAuliffe's eighth-inning tie-breaking homer and Mickey Lolich's five-hit pitching gave Detroit its third straight triumph over slumping Minnesota.

McAuliffe's shot, his seventh, broke up a duel between Lolich and Jim Kaat. It was the first hit off Kaat since the second inning. Lolich didn't allow a hit after the fifth.

John "Blue Moon" Odom hurled a seven-hitter and smacked his first major league homer as Oakland blanked Cleveland. The A's pounded Steve Hargan for four runs and five hits in the first three innings and Odom, Reggie Jackson and Dave Duncan all homered off reliever Bill Rohr.

Odom struck out five and walked only one in his first appearance since he hurled 8 2/3 hitless innings against Baltimore Friday night before a broken-bat bloop ruined his no-hit bid.

Defense Men Acquired in Hockey Trade

MONTREAL (AP) — Two defensemen brothers — Wayne and Larry Hillman, were obtained by the same team and longtime great goaltender Jacques Plante is returning to the National Hockey League as a result of action at the circuits annual meetings here.

Minnesota acquired the Hillman brothers — Larry during the draft and Wayne in a three-for-one trade with New York, while Plante, 39, was the top name drafted Wednesday, going to the St. Louis Blues.

Minnesota acquired Wayne Hillman and two rookies, Joe Johnson and Dan Seguin, from New York in exchange for Dave Balon.

Plante, after nine star-studded seasons with Montreal, played two years for the Rangers and then retired in 1965. He won the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie six times including a record five straight.

Oakland made Montreal defenseman Carol Vadnais the first choice of the draft and exposed another defenseman, Larry Cahen, who was promptly picked up by the Canadiens.

Toronto drafted Larry Mickey from New York, Bill Sutherland from Minnesota and Gary Marsh from Detroit. The Leafs lost Brian Conacher to Detroit, Larry Hillman to New York and Duane Rupp to Minnesota.

TOKYO — Katsuo Saito, 125, Japan, knocked out Francisco Blaug, 125 1/2, Philippines, 4. Saito won vacant Orient featherweight title.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Jose Luis Pimentel, 124, Los Angeles, knocked out Jesse "Chato" Lopez, 119, Tucson, Ariz., 3; Jorge Torres, 119 1/2, Los Angeles, knocked out Gabby Espinoza, 116, Phoenix, Ariz., 2.

Montreal Not Sure of Big League

MONTREAL (AP) — Major league baseball has expanded to Montreal but Montreal isn't quite sure it knows where to put the game.

Lucien Saulnier, chairman of the city's Executive Committee, said Wednesday that the city has not committed itself to building a domed stadium for the National League team which is to begin playing here next season.

"The City made no commitment regarding the stadium," said Saulnier "and cannot make one until certain economic feasibility studies are completed."

Gerry Snyder, vice chairman of the Executive Committee and the man who represented Montreal at the National League's expansion meeting in Chicago, had indicated then that the city would build a 55,000-seat domed stadium to house the team. Until the stadium is built, the team is supposed to play in a park located on the grounds of Expo '67.

Warren Giles, president of the National League, said he would investigate the matter.

Pro Tennis Meet Will Try Again

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The 42nd U.S. Pro Tennis Championships, with more money than ever at stake, attempted to get under way once again today after running afoul of the weather at Longwood.

Officials postponed the scheduled start Wednesday as a heavy downpour flooded the plush grass courts.

The field of 16 of the world's foremost pros, while looking ahead to the first Wimbledon Open, is anxious to get started in a bid for the $8,000 top prize in the U.S. Tournament.

The opening four matches send Australian Tony Roche against Alex Olmedo of Peru; third-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., against Antonio Palafox of Mexico; Cliff Drysdale of South Africa against Mal Anderson of Australia, and fourth-seeded Butch Buchholz of St. Louis against Mike Davies of Wales.

Gonzales, along with defending champion Rod Laver and second-seeded Ken Rosewall, are not due to see action until second-day play.

W. German Fighting for Life

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Jupp Elze fought for his life today after a gallant, but losing bid to win the European middleweight boxing championship.

The 29-year-old West German champ was hit in the head by a devastating right-hand punch by Italy's Carlos Duran in the 15th and last round of their title fight Wednesday night.

Elze sagged to the canvas, heaved himself to his feet with a hand signal that he had had enough, then staggered to his corner. There he collapsed unconscious.

"His life is in danger," said a doctor at Cologne University Hospital where Elze was taken with an oxygen mask clamped over his face. "I cannot say at this stage whether he will pull through. The next day or two will be decisive."

The doctor said Elze was suffering cerebral bleeding.

Duran, who retained his European title on a 15th round technical knockout, declared, "I was astonished when he collapsed. He put up a great fight."

Pat Jarvis Dazzles the Cards

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pat Jarvis dazzled the St. Louis Cardinals with wire-to-wire speed but Don Drysdale wasn't quick enough to fight off the New York Mets' finishing kick.

Jarvis, Atlanta's hard-throwing right-hander, hurled a three-hitter Wednesday night as the Braves ended a long standing St. Louis hex by drubbing the National League leaders 7-1.

The Mets, blanked by Drysdale for eight innings, caught up with the Los Angeles shutout king in the ninth and nipped the Dodgers 2-1.

San Francisco trimmed Pittsburgh 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs downed Cincinnati 4-1 in afternoon action. Houston was rained out at Philadelphia.

In American League play Detroit edged Minnesota and Oakland whipped Cleveland 7-0. Rain washed out the Chicago-New York and Baltimore-Washington games as well as California's scheduled doubleheader at Boston.

Jarvis, 6-4, held St. Louis hitless until the fifth inning and drove in the only two runs he needed with a pair of singles as Atlanta cooled off the sizzling Cardinals with a 13-hit attack.

The Cards had won 13 of their previous 15 starts and had beaten the Braves 10 times in a row, sweeping their first six meetings this season.

Hank Aaron clubbed a two-run homer, Tito Francona laced a bases-empty homer and two singles and Marty Martinez socked two doubles and a triple in the Braves' assault against loser Nelson Briles and three St. Louis relievers.

Drysdale, who set an all-time record of 58 2-3 scoreless innings in succession last Saturday night before Pittsburgh clipped him for a run, went into the ninth inning against the Mets with a five-hitter and a 1-0 lead.

But with one out Art Shamsky singled off the glove of second baseman Paul Popovich and J. C. Martin followed with a double to left center, scoring pinch runner Dick Selma with the tying run and driving Drysdale from the mound.

Jerry Grote then greeted reliever Jack Billingham with a run-scoring single, giving the Mets their third victory in a row over the Dodgers at Los Angeles.

Drysdale, who had appeared headed for his eighth straight triumph and eighth shutout of the year, slipped to 8-4. Al Jackson picked up the victory in relief of rookie Nolan Ryan, who wild pitched the Dodgers' run home in the fourth and left for a pinch hitter in the eighth after yielding six hits.

Hal Lanier scored the tie-breaking run at San Francisco as slick fielding second baseman Bill Mazeroski booted Dave Marshall's two-out grounder in the seventh inning. Jim Hart's 12th homer gave the Giants an insurance run in the eighth.

Mazeroski's error pinned the loss on luckless Jim Bunning, 3-8, while Bob Bolin, making only his second start of the season, posted his first victory with late help from reliever Frank Linzy.

Amarillo Sweeps Two From Travs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Amarillo swept a doubleheader from Eastern Division leader Arkansas in the Texas League Wednesday night, winning 4-3 and 9-0.

Ro Bryant limited Arkansas to three hits in the second game—the first shutout Arkansas has suffered this year.

The first game went two extra innings before Jose Morales tripled home Bob Taylor, who had been hit by a pitch. Arkansas tied up the game 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh with a two-run rally.

Amarillo broke open the second game with five runs in the third inning and added two in the fourth and two in the sixth. Bryant set down 12 batters in a row before allowing a single in the fifth.

At Memphis, San Antonio pounded 12 hits off three Memphis pitchers for a 7-4 Texas League victory.

The Missions presented Dick James with his first victory in seven decisions. He went the distance allowing only four hits through eight innings.

He fired in the ninth and the Blues scored three times on three hits, including a triple by Curtis Brown.

Player Is Going After U.S. Open

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Gary Player, who hasn't really been away, is ready to make a comeback.

"I'm playing the best golf of my life," the tough little South African said today before teeing off in the first round of the United States Open Golf Championship.

"Even more importantly, my attitude has changed. I want to win again. I've got that positive attitude, that desire, that charge, call it what you will."

The muscular little man who has won all the world's major titles, was among the last in the field of 150 to get away today on the demanding 6,692-yard, par 70 Oak Hill Country Club course, a course that pre-tourney favorite Billy Casper said is tailor-made for Player.

"It isn't exceptionally long but it's very exacting. It places a premium on accuracy, and that's Gary's forte," said Casper.

Player, once considered a member of the Big Three along with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, defending champion of this tournament, hasn't won a tournament in this country since he captured the Open title at St. Louis in 1965.

That made him only the third man to win all four of the world's major professional titles — the U.S. and British Opens, the Masters and the PGA—and admittedly took an edge off his desire.

He made only token appearances on the tour, spending most of his time with his family on their ranch near Johannesburg.

But this year he's back.

Ex-champs Beaten in Tournament

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Two former champions went down to defeat while two others advanced to the quarterfinals in the women's state golf tournament Wednesday.

Lee Larson of Rohrer defeated Mrs. Dale Dunlap of Blytheville 3 and 1, and Mrs. Jim Wellons of Little Rock defeated Mrs. Hugh Huppert of Fayetteville 5 and 4.

Former champ Mrs. Carle Robbins of Fort Smith was upset by 17-year-old Robin Watson of Crawfordville, who played with her legs bandaged because of shin splints.

Miss Watson, the current state junior champion, defeated Mrs. Robbins 3 and 2.

Margery Hale of Burdette edged Mrs. J. J. Miller of Hot Springs, a former champ, 2 and 1. At one time, Mrs. Miller had a string of four straight championships from 1956-59.

In other matches Wednesday, Sharon Flippin of Fort Smith downed Mrs. Okla Smith of Fort Smith 8 and 7; Mrs. Charles Conway of Fort Smith defeated Mimi Hupper of Fayetteville 2-up; Mrs. McCloud Seward of Fort Smith defeated Julie Yantis of Fort Smith 2 and 1; and Martha Jett of Little Rock nipped Mrs. John Mott of Fort Smith 1-up.

Miss Larson will play Miss Flippin, Mrs. Conway will play Mrs. Seward, Miss Jett will play Miss Watson and Mrs. Wellons will play Miss Hale in today's matches.

Says Day Is Over in Golf Craftsmanship

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "These boys are not craftsmen, they're just hitters," old Fred McLeod said sadly. "I'm afraid the day of craftsmanship is gone in golf."

"You buy your shots when you buy your clubs."

McLeod, a dapper little Scot with snow-white hair and twinkling eyes, sat under a huge oak at the Oak Hill Country Club today and watched golf's tough young capitalists tee off in the first round of the 68th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

As boy and man, Freddie, now 86, has been on hand for almost 60 of them and he even won one 60 years ago.

That was in 1908 at the Myopia Hunt Club in Hamilton, Mass.

"It was quite different then," the slightly built retired pro from the Columbia Club in Chevy Chase, Md., recalled nostalgically.

"I had eight clubs in my small canvas bag—two of them woods and one a putter. We didn't number the clubs. We named them—niblick, mashie and so forth. They all had wood shafts."

"We had to use the same club for a variety of shots. This required some thinking. Now all a fellow has to do is choose the right club. The club does the work."

"The greatest player I ever saw?"

Freddie paused and his eyes swept down a twisting highway of memories.

"Hogan—it would have to be Ben Hogan," the old man said.

Two Seeded Players Are Defeated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two seeded players went down to defeat Wednesday in the second round of the men's singles in the Arkansas state tennis tournament here.

Fred Marsh of Bryant defeated No. 8 seed Murray Harding of Little Rock 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Jay Freeman of Little Rock, seeded fourth, defaulted to Neal Spearman of North Little Rock.

The tournament's top-ranked player, David Kossover of Fayetteville, will play his second round match today.

Women's singles and the men's doubles also will start today.

Wednesday's results:
Don Setliff, Little Rock, defeated Earl Baum, North Little Rock, 6-2, 6-0.

Mike Mehaffy, Little Rock, defeated Robert Rolling, North Little Rock, 6-0, 6-2.

Leon Marks, Fort Smith, defeated Bill McRae, Little Rock, 6-2, 6-1.

Memorial Vote to RFK Proposed

By JERRY HANKIN
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Some members of California's Democratic National Convention delegation favor a first ballot memorial vote for the assassinated Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

That's one finding of an Associated Press poll which uncovered little open support among the delegates for either of the two surviving presidential candidates, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey or Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

The survey reached 113 persons, about two-thirds of the 172 members. The rest were unavailable.

A course is expected to be decided on Saturday when the delegation gathers in Los Angeles, where Kennedy was fatally shot last week after capturing the California primary and its prize of the second largest bloc of convention votes.

Several members said they will propose a unanimous first ballot vote for the late senator. Forty-one persons said they either support the idea or are sympathetic to it.

Virtually all the others contacted said they didn't know what direction might be taken on the initial ballot.

State Sen. Alan Short said he will offer the idea that the chairman of the delegation, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, be a favorite son presidential nominee to bind the group together and maximize its influence.

Earlier in the week, Unruh told newsmen he wants to keep the delegation united and searching for a candidate closest to Kennedy's views.

If the delegates go along, this would hamper the drive of Humphrey to go into the August convention with the nomination secured, or nearly so.

The delegates were asked, "Whom do you favor for the

Sheep Heart Transplant Doesn't Work

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Surgeons failed today in what they described as an attempt to save a dying man by transferring the heart of a sheep into his body.

The operation was performed at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where four human heart transplants took place in recent weeks. Two of those patients survived.

Officials would not identify the man, 47, who died in surgery today. They said his heart failed Wednesday morning and he was referred to the hospital for a possible transplant after being revived with difficulty.

"No donor patient was available," a St. Luke's statement said. "As a last resort the insertion of the heart of a 125-pound sheep was attempted at 11:15 p.m. in an effort to support circulation until a suitable donor might become available."

"The patient's condition was terminal during surgery, could not be reversed and further efforts were abandoned. The patient was pronounced dead at 1:02 a.m."

Spokesmen said a sheep was selected with tissue matching that of the patient. Hospital Administrator Newell France described it as "a rather bizarre situation."

It was the second known case in which a human being has received the heart of an animal.

Surgeons at the University of Mississippi Medical Center transferred the heart of a chimpanzee to a man on Jan. 24, 1964. It worked for an hour.

The recipient of the chimpanzee heart, described as dying before the surgery was attempted, never was identified.

Dr. Philip Blalberg, the retired dentist in South Africa who has lived longest with a transplanted heart, is back in the hospital with hepatitis but was reported holding his own Wednesday night.

Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape Town said he was maintaining improvement made earlier and "the hepatitis is no worse." Blalberg was operated on Jan. 2.

The first recorded case of transplanting a primate's kidneys was in October 1963, to a 32-year-old woman. She died of the kidney disease that had necessitated the transplant.

Last April, the National Cardiological Institute in Budapest, Hungary, reported the successful transplant of an ape's heart valve to a 17-year-old boy.

By the end of World War I, the United States had a strength of almost 3,000 aircraft, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The Student Radicals to Woo Workers

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

Leaders of the radical student group that disrupted college campuses across the country during the past year now are talking of spreading their gospel of revolution to America's working classes.

The objective, said one national officer of Students for a Democratic Society, is "an alliance between students and workers—like in France."

Carl Davidson, SDS national secretary, said as the first step an undisclosed number of SDS members are taking summer jobs in big-city factories and are moving into blue-collar neighborhoods.

"We will learn how the workers think and how they live," Davidson said. "Then we can organize."

SDS, which claims 35,000 members on more than 200 campuses, has made similar attempts at community organizing in the past—generally without success.

In 1963, it launched Economic Research and Action Projects (ERAP) in slum areas of 10 cities, but two years later dissolved the ERAP structure. "Our rhetoric sometimes gets ahead of our programs," Davidson said.

The renewed talk of expanding off campus follows two developments:

1. A year of unprecedented unrest on U.S. campuses, beginning with demonstrations against the Vietnam war and the military draft and ending with a paralyzing student strike at Columbia University.

2. The wave of disorders in France, sparked by a student-worker alliance that plunged President Charles de Gaulle's government into its gravest crisis.

Some SDS members contend the group should maintain its campus orientation, at least for present, and forget about trying to organize workers. Thus, the proposals for community organizing may touch off debate at an 11-hour plenary session today at the SDS' annual convention at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Newsmen covering this week's convention are handed a nine-point memorandum stating that no one can be quoted directly or indirectly. And reporters were excluded from two workshops Wednesday.

But in the days preceding the convention, The Associated Press interviewed scores of SDS officers and members from Brooklyn to Berkeley. The bold talk of converting SDS into a

Humphrey Group Seeks Young Vote

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Strategists for Hubert H. Humphrey are looking beyond Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's challenge to how the vice president can convince voters—especially young ones—that he is not just part of the status quo.

"The pressure is off as far as the convention is concerned," said a Humphrey advisor, but he acknowledged concern over how Humphrey is regarded, especially by young voters.

But McCarthy, resuming his campaign against Humphrey Wednesday for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Wednesday he doubts the accuracy of tabulations indicating a heavy Humphrey lead in delegates to the party's August convention.

On the Republican side, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller toured the Watts area in Los Angeles Wednesday, eluding his heavy guard to wade into a throng of high school youngsters at one point—and commented on commitments like that in Vietnam.

"We cannot act as the world's policeman," Rockefeller said. "Before we commit even small forces, all the far-reaching implications of this act must be faced—as they were not faced in Vietnam. We must not find ourselves with a commitment looking for a justification."

Rockefeller also said he would "accept immediately" a debate with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon if one of the television networks offers time.

Nixon, regarded the GOP front runner, turned down such a debate, saying through a spokesman it "would only serve the Democrats by promoting divisive tendencies among Republicans."

Third-party candidate George C. Wallace, campaigning in Chattanooga, Tenn., said Wednesday the government should register Communists, not guns, and strict law enforcement is the way to abolish crime.

"They ought to abolish crime by putting people in jail," Wallace said. "I'll tell you what's

Prison Board Decides on Farming First

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—The state Board of Correction decided Wednesday to emphasize farming rather than education for the next four months at Tucker Prison Farm.

The board, yielding to legislative pressure to make Tucker more profitable, instructed Acting Tucker Supt. William H. Barker to see that as many men as needed were made available to put out the crops.

The board ordered that farming operations take precedence over educational classes during the four months.

The prison operations have come under intense fire from legislators and others in recent months because the prisons haven't been self-supporting.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked the May special legislative session for $1.8 million for the prisons, but the legislature made available only a little

One Escapee Returned

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Jesse Ring, 30, one of four Tucker Prison Farm inmates who escaped last week-end, was returned to the prison Wednesday evening, authorities said.

Prison officials said members of the family returned Ring to the prison.

He was serving a 21-year sentence for second-degree murder from Jefferson and Sharp counties.

More than $1 million. Out of that comes $500,000 to pay back borrowed funds.

Board Chairman John Haley of Little Rock said Wednesday at the board's meeting here that the board would make a report on the prison's operations "to show what we are trying to do that would remove it (the prison) from politics."

The use of a two-club opening as a catch-all strong hand is almost universal in expert circles. Sometimes it shows a regular suit two bid, but most of the time it shows a 23- or 24-point no-trump hand. South's two-club call was in that class.

North's two-diamond response was a general negative and his three-club bid merely asked if South could show a four-card major suit.

It didn't take all this gadgetry to reach three no-trump. Any two players would be likely to find their way to that spot.

They would also be very likely to make the contract. All South has to do is to concede one spade and wind up with three spades and two tricks in each other suit, but at the table West came up with a defensive coup that caused South to wind up with only seven tricks.

It wasn't done with mirrors—just by means of an unusual falsecard.

The queen of clubs was played from dummy at trick one, and East's king fell to South's ace. South led his five of spades and West played the queen!

South made the correct play of ducking in dummy. West led a second club. South ducked that lead and won the next club. Then South led a low diamond. West won with the jack and cashed his good club while East discarded a heart. Then West led a second diamond.

South won and played his other high diamond to see if that suit would break. West had already taken four tricks, so he could afford to throw a heart away.

Now South led the ace and his last low spade. West followed with the three and nine, and the time for decision had arrived. South thought awhile. He realized that something might well be going on, but it surely looked as if West had started with four spades to the queen-jack. South played the ten from dummy, and instead of making three spade tricks wound up with only one.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Heredity a Factor In Cases of Gout

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am a man, 33, and not overweight. My doctor says I have gout. Isn't this a disease of older persons who eat excessively rich food and drink a lot of alcohol?

A—In most cases gout, like diabetes, is an inborn error of metabolism with heredity an important factor. Women rarely get it before the onset of the menopause but in men it usually starts in the early 30s. Foods rich in purines will cause gout only in a person who is born with this metabolic defect. An exception is that it may be caused by taking large amounts of pyrazinamide for tuberculosis or chlorothiazide for water-logging in the tissues.

In the treatment of gout, it is wise to avoid such purine-rich foods as sweetbreads, liver, kidney, meat extracts, bouillon, consommé, oysters, anchovies and sardines. Alcoholic beverages, especially beer, should also be avoided. There are no other dietary restrictions but the use of tobacco in any form should be avoided. Although obesity predisposes to gout, the disease may also be aggravated by heroic efforts at weight reduction.

Q—I have gout. My uric acid level is 7. What is the normal level?

A—The normal level for men is 3.8 to 6.2 milligrams

WORLD ALMANAC

A four-year-old girl discovered the first prehistoric cave painting in Europe. The World Almanac notes. In 1879, the Marquis de Sautuola and his young daughter went looking for fossils in the Altamira cave in northern Spain. Creeping into a remote part of the cave, the little girl raised her candle and met the gaze of a prehistoric bull scratched into the surface of the rock.

Transplants Result of Years of Work

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A team of surgeons cut into the still-warm body of a young gunshot victim, removed her heart and transplanted it into the body of a dying man.

An electric shock triggered the heart's action and color returned to the man's blood-starved limbs. He had been given another chance at life.

Within days, the same surgical team performed two more heart transplants.

For medical men here the transplants last month were simply the next logical step in the progression of research and application at the impressive 134-acre Texas Medical Center.

That progression started 25 years ago, long before heart transplants or even heart surgery were on the medical horizon.

Texas was then only on the fringes of advanced medical science. The state was booming, but medical services were not keeping pace.

A center for all phases of medical research, education and treatment to fill the void in the Lone Star State was first envisioned by trustees of the M. D. Anderson Foundation, a charitable organization created by the estate of a millionaire cotton merchant who died in 1939.

The trustees bought an open field on the edge of Houston in 1944 and the following year convinced Baylor University to move its College of Medicine from Dallas to the new center. The school was to become the heart of the new complex.

Staffing of the new school and complex would take man who could fill the triple roles of teachers, physicians and administrators.

One such man found by the school was Dr. Michael DeBakey. Then 40, DeBakey was an associate professor of surgery at Tulane University.

DeBakey was named chairman of the surgery department at the medical school. He became friends with Ben Taub, a Houston millionaire, and, with his help, organized a major hospital surgical program and started assembling a staff.

Among the first associates DeBakey selected was Dr. Denton Cooley. Sharing a deep interest in cardiovascular surgery, they formed a team that was to make history.

While teaching at the medical school and performing surgery at nearby hospitals, the DeBakey team began a series of studies, experiments and ground-breaking operations that would move in less than two decades to use of artificial heart pumps and, eventually, to heart transplants.

The DeBakey team, which included Drs. Cooley, George C. Morris Jr., E. Stanley Crawford and George Jordan, pioneered in the surgical repair of diseased arteries.

In early procedures they exposed aneurysms—bulges in weakened arterial walls—and wrapped them to lend strength to the artery.

You've Never Been Kissed Until a 2000 Lb. Whale Buzzes You

By CATHY NEVILLE
Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — I have nothing against starting out a beautiful spring morning with a nice affectionate kiss. But when it's from someone who's just eaten two dozen raw herring, I'd just as soon shake hands.

So I leaned over and tried to pretend I was about to be kissed by James Coburn or maybe Robert Goulet, with or without the fish. Well girls, you've never been kissed until a 13-foot, 2,000-pound killer whale has nibbled your ear.

Jandu is a girl, but she'll kiss anyone who leans over her pool at the Seattle Marine Aquarium.

Although Jandu is fickle, she has a full-time admirer who doesn't have any second thoughts about being kissed. She's Jerry Watmore, a pretty 24-year-old former dolphin trainer at San Diego's Sea World.

She came to Seattle about one year ago and applied for the job of training the whale—then a petite 1,100 pounds. She threw Jandu a herring whenever the whale did what Jerry wanted and soon Jandu was shaking hands, kissing, rolling over on her back and doing a variety of other tricks.

Although killer whales can hear for up to seven miles under water, Jandu responds to Jerry's hand signals, not her words. For example, when Jerry holds up a fish Jandu nods her head.

Jerry says that after throwing her big friend herring all day, "I go home at night and scrub and dump on the perfume and try to forget the fish."

Some call it a "treaty of imperfections." Some doubt that it will have any effect on the nuclear arms race.

There is no doubt that the treaty draft, approved by the U.N. General Assembly Wednesday and now open for signature and ratification, falls far short of what most countries wanted. But it appears to be the best that could be arrived at after 10 years of debate and negotiation.

Its worth will be determined by the number of countries that adhere to it and the effect it has in creating a favorable atmosphere for future disarmament negotiations. It is generally agreed that its value may be mainly in this latter direction.

Almost everyone at the U.N. General Assembly acknowledged that any agreement by the United States and the Soviet Union on a disarmament treaty was significant at a time when the international atmosphere was poisoned by the Vietnam war. Generally, however, the U.N. diplomats are not so sure about the value of the treaty as a barrier to the spread of nuclear weapons to countries that don't have them.

There are two obvious weaknesses to the treaty: Two of the five nuclear powers—France and Red China—won't adhere to it; and perhaps as many as 10 near-nuclear countries also will refuse to sign.

South Africa, for example, is not expected to sign the pact, and several black African countries fear that the white regime in South Africa may become a nuclear power and dominate all of Africa. India fears Peking's nuclear power despite a general pledge of protection from the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

Some Nations Not Happy With A-pact

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Its U.S. and Soviet sponsors hail it as a historic step toward disarmament, but many countries are far from happy with the new treaty aimed at curbing the spread of nuclear weapons.

Some call it a "treaty of imperfections." Some doubt that it will have any effect on the nuclear arms race.

Quebec Issue Hottest in Canada

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer
MONTREAL (AP) — The hottest issue in Canada's current political campaign is the Quebec question, and it's apt to get hotter before the June 25 election.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, a French-Canadian, has stirred the ire of Quebec separatists and of more moderate Quebec leaders by his tough stand on the future status of the French-speaking province.

He apparently is staking his political life on the assumption that most Canadians, including a substantial number of Quebec residents, want to maintain a strong federal government rather than yield powers to give Quebec a special status in the confederation.

Robert Stanfield, leader of the Conservative party, has accused the 48-year-old Liberal leader of "trying to turn English Canada against Quebec." Trudeau denies this and accuses the Conservatives of speaking with two voices—one for Quebec and one for the rest of Canada.

Trudeau's firm adherence to federalism is no surprise. He spoke out repeatedly on the issue before he was chosen last April to succeed Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson. His election was made possible by a substantial bloc of votes from the Quebec delegation.

It was on Trudeau's initiative that the Quebec issue was injected into the present campaign. From the outset he brushed aside suggestions that this question was too inflammatory and should be put on the shelf for postelection negotiations.

The results of his decision have been mixed. Outside French Canada his stand has been cheered. Just how this will pay off in the election is not so certain. In most of the prairie provinces, the Atlantic provinces and British Columbia the Liberals haven't done well in recent years and, at best, could only be expected to pick up scattered parliamentary seats.

The voters in these provinces may be more influenced by other issues, such as inflation, unemployment and wheat surpluses.

The key is the vote in Quebec Province itself. In order to win a substantial victory, Trudeau must take most of Quebec's 74 seats in the House of Commons. This is historically a Liberal stronghold and, along with Ontario, provides the backbone of Liberal strength. At present the Liberals hold 55 Quebec seats to 15 for opposition parties. The remainder are vacant or held by independents.

Separatists favor a bigger role for Quebec in the confederation, a special status or a recognition that Canada is made up of two nations, one French-speaking and one English-speaking.

PanAm Plane Falls in India and Six Die

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — A Pan American Boeing 707 jetliner landed short of the runway in a monsoon rain at Calcutta's international airport early this morning, caught fire and burned. The airliner said six of the 63 persons aboard were killed.

Some of the survivors were seriously injured.

A spokesman for Pan American World Airways said five passengers and a stewardess were killed. The survivors included 48 passengers and nine crew members.

Among the passengers was the Anglican bishop of Hong Kong, the Rt. Rev. Gilbert Baker, who was flying to London. The airline said he was not hurt.

There was no information on the nationality of any other passengers.

Twenty-five injured persons were reported in satisfactory condition in one nursing home, and more injured persons were taken to other medical establishments.

The duty officer at Dum Dum Airport's control tower said the huge four-engine jet approached the airport in "moderate to heavy rain" and "undershot."

It hit the ground and burst into flames and within minutes was burned out, he reported, adding that some of the passengers were trapped in the wreckage.

The airline said the flight originated in Los Angeles and stopped in Honolulu, Tokyo, Hong Kong and Bangkok. After Calcutta it was to have called at Karachi, Beirut, Istanbul, Frankfurt, London and New York.

we care

say Dad...ever wonder how Mom got the money

Come Sunday morning, will you be one of the millions of fathers who are forever amazed?
Will you look at your new fishing reel or power tool or camera...
and wonder:
"How did Mom get the money?"

You'll know she didn't rob a bank...and she didn't sell the car.

Maybe, just maybe, we can give you a hint.

Is Mom an A&P shopper?
Could it be that the savings she makes each week of the year
add up to so much?

Why not ask her?

Before you do though, better take a quick look in the garage to make sure the car's still there.

Contested Will Hearing in 2nd Day

MENA, Ark. (AP) — The hearing on a contested will naming three members of the Archie Cude family beneficiaries progressed into its second day in Probate Court here today.

The contestants of the will were able to call one witness to the stand Wednesday before the hearing was recessed, and they plan to call about 14 more before the hearing ends.

Joe Hardegree of Mena, 9th District prosecutor who is representing the Cudes, said he called five witnesses to the stand Wednesday to prove that the will was executed in a lawful manner.

"The burden of proof has now shifted to the contestants," Hardegree said.

Cude is the Polk County farmer who was involved in a court battle over his refusal on religious grounds to permit his children to be vaccinated so they could attend school.

He was named executor of the will of Ors. Rose N. Gordon, who died last April.

Cude and two of his sons, Clark, 19, and Wayne, 17, were named among beneficiaries of the will.

Contesting the will are Mrs. Ida Hiller of Amelia, Ohio, Mrs. Gordon's sister, and Paul E. Sarver and his wife of San Diego, Calif.

Backfires on State Taxpayers

Some weeks ago a member of the Arkansas legislature shed a new light on a question that's been puzzling this editor and thousands of other citizens: How a state government with millions of surplus funds a couple of years ago could wake up and find itself in such a financial bind that new and higher taxes are being advocated.

This assemblyman told me that the federal government was for the first time applying wage & hour regulations to coverage of employees of the state government. "This policy affects all departments in Arkansas, and the cost to the state government — and ultimately the state's taxpayers — will be enormous," he told me.

The state lawmaker was speaking of litigation which he personally knew was about to begin. But it wasn't long before the public got the news.

It had been customary for state governments when working employees more than 40 hours a week to compensate by granting equivalent time off in other weeks. But federal enforcement authorities insisted that time-and-one-half must be paid in any week that the 40-hour limit is exceeded. Twenty-eight states, including Arkansas, took an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, with testimony at last April's hearing that the overtime provision would cost the states an additional 100 million dollars annually in tax funds.

Last Monday the Supreme Court held for the wage & hour people and against the state governments.

Payment of overtime and protection of employees' welfare with hospitalization and surgery insurance are things that progressive management in private industry recognized long before the federal government did. For instance, The Star established these practices for its people before the advent of either Social Security or wage & hour laws.

But the cost to the public of private enterprise is limited by competition in the market place. A private company can do no more than what it is able to work into finished goods that can be sold in the market place at a profit. Not so, however, in the case of public employees being paid with tax funds. There is no limit to what the federal lawmakers may demand of the state governments, and no limit to the bill which state taxpayers will have to foot.

State taxpayers are supposed to be running their own government. But we have just been treated to the spectacle of the United States Supreme Court ramrodding a bureaucratic tax increase down the throats of the taxpayers of Arkansas — and other states.

This is not a question between management and labor, for it lies beyond the realm of private business. Actually it hurts the private worker, in the very federal program that is supposed to help him, because it takes away some of his pay in compulsory higher state taxes.

At this point reform quits and tyranny begins.

Warm Days,
Cool Nights
in Store

A large, but weak, high pressure system located over the central portion of the nation will provide Arkansas with clear skies, warm days and cool nights through Friday.

Showers may be in store for the Northwest section of the state Friday night with a low pressure trough moving rapidly southeastward.

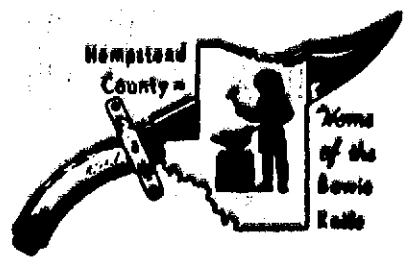

As the trough nears Arkansas, winds will become southerly, bringing moist air and the chance of showers and thunderstorms.

Dry air will lessen the severity of high thermometer readings.

N. Vietnam
May Relent
in Stand

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam appears to be edging toward confidential talks with the United States on Vietnamese peace issues, although it is still conducting a diplomatic holding operation in the Paris conference.

Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam is considering a proposal by U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman Wednesday that "both sides reduce the propaganda output following each meeting" they hold here.

The public release of formal statements would be ended under the Harriman plan, and spokesmen for each side would give only a "general description" of what had been said in the closed conference room. The eight talks so far held have been followed in each case by release of the formal statements of Harriman and Thuy.

U.S. officials said they found some encouragement in Thuy's stated agreement to study the proposal. In earlier sessions when Harriman suggested semi-private or secret discussions Thuy rejected the idea.

The Americans had no assurance that his response in a future meeting would not again be negative, but they felt he would not have agreed even to study the proposal unless he and his advisers were thinking about modifying their tactics.

Harriman and Thuy met the first time a month ago today. They held their eighth session Wednesday and agreed to meet again next Wednesday.

Life Is Made Up of

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is made up of wonders. Among the things that stir us to wonder:

Why, if hair has to grow in a fellow's ears after 40, does it have to be colored gray?

Why a woman who wouldn't ordinarily hurt a fly manages to impale so many passing men with her umbrella on a rainy day?

Why bystanders are always called innocent?

Why the horse that looks the best in the paddock always looks the worst coming down the home stretch?

Why a wife who says she never has anything but a tuna fish sandwich for lunch always wants a one pound porterhouse steak when her husband takes her out to dinner?

Why cats so consistently refuse to use a scratching post of their own and insist on sharpening their claws on the most expensive chair in the house?

Why the doctor who tells you that you need to go on a diet usually outweighs you by 20 pounds?

Why motherhood is so universally admired but mother-in-lawhood is so widely laughed at? After all, every woman who became a mother-in-law had first to be a mother.

U.S. Supreme Court
May Clear Ruling on the Death Penalty

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Supreme Court pushes toward adjournment, probably on Monday, a 28-year-old Negro waits on death row at Alabama's Kilby Penitentiary.

Edward Boykin Jr. is scheduled for electrocution June 28. The crime for which he was sentenced to die is armed robbery. Boykin was tried in September 1966 for the robbery of five Mobile, Ala., stores. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to death five times, once for each of the robberies.

His petition to the Supreme Court, filed by Mobile lawyer E. Graham Gibbons, said no one was killed or severely injured in the series of holdups. In one of the robberies, a grocery-chain store, a bullet ricocheted off the ceiling and struck a girl in the leg.

In Alabama, the trial jury can impose any penalty for armed robbery from 10 years in prison to death.

Boykin's appeal contends, as so many convicted men have unsuccessfully, that the death penalty is unconstitutional, that it violates the Eighth Amendment's prohibition on "cruel and unusual punishment."

On June 3 the Supreme Court ruled the death penalty may not be imposed or recommended by a jury from which all opponents of capital punishment have been automatically excluded.

Some observers believe this points the way toward the eventual outlawing of the death penalty. For now, though, capital punishment is very much alive in 42 states.

Extradition
Application
Examined

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Lawyers at the British Home Office today were examining the U.S. application to extradite James Earl Ray to ensure it established a case against the 40-year-old escaped convict accused of slaying Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The application was sent to the Home Office, the British equivalent of the U.S. Justice Department, after clearing its first legal hurdle in the Foreign Office a few hours after U.S. Consul General Jack Herfurdt delivered the bally petition.

Court formalities and appeals could delay Ray's return up to six weeks or longer if he fights extradition.

The inch-thick petition contains a summary of evidence against Ray in connection with the assassination of King at a Memphis motel April 4. It also contains information on his escape from the Missouri State Prison while serving a sentence for armed robbery, along with fingerprints and other identification material.

The United States is seeking extradition on both charges and must satisfy a British judge that both would be crimes under British law.

The Foreign Office certified that the petition came within the terms of the 1931 extradition treaty between the two countries. The Home Office said that if it finds the petition in order, it should be in the hands of Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton sometime today. Milton is expected to schedule a hearing about a week after receiving it.

If Milton grants extradition, Ray would have 15 days to appeal to the High Court and if the High Court upheld the extradition order, he would have another 14 days to appeal to the House of Lords, Britain's supreme court.

Michael Dresden, the British lawyer appointed for Ray, has given no indication whether Ray would fight extradition and has refused to comment on the case.

Scotland Yard continued its investigation of Ray's movements in London during the three weeks prior to his arrest last Saturday, and suspicion continued that he had a contact man.

Mixed Drinks
Suit Hearing
Set Monday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit filed by Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell last month against the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to halt issuance of any more mixed drink permits to private clubs is set for hearing 9 a.m. Monday.

Chancellor John T. Jernigan, who is to hear the case, said he was giving the case priority at the earliest time the attorneys could meet.

Purcell filed the suit against the board after it issued approximately 30 permits to dispense mixed drinks in private clubs. The attorney general had ruled dispensing of mixed drinks illegal.

The mixed drink permits will be up for a year's renewal July 1.

Youth Hangs
Himself Accidentally

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police said Wednesday that Edmond Kaim, 10, of Little Rock accidentally hanged himself with a piece of plastic water hose at his home.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Hall said a doctor reported that apparently the youth choked to death. Hall said the boy apparently had swung from an upper limb holding to the hose and turned in the air, because the hose was wrapped around his neck three times.

Peace Talks Bring the Bloodiest Fighting of Entire Vietnam War
New Attack
Threat

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Throughout South Vietnam, shells, rockets, bombs and bullets cut down hundreds on both sides as the North Vietnamese U.S. peace talks drag on in Paris. And the bloodiest of all battles in this region near the demilitarized zone.

A young Marine lieutenant directed his driver to check out a bridge on the road near this much-shelled combat base. A heavy duty truck followed.

As the Jeep approached the bridge a terrific explosion destroyed the span and sent shrapnel into the bodies of the Leathernicks. When the smoke cleared, two were dead, a third was dying and Cpl. Robert Barnes, 19, Little Rock, Ark., the Jeep driver, felt rivulets of blood coursing from face and neck wounds.

Demands of Prisoners
Are Met

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The director of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons personally has agreed to demands by four armed inmates in the U.S. Penitentiary as the price for the safety of 21 hostages.

After the concessions were made, Director Cyril Alexander told a news conference Wednesday the four inmates would be prosecuted "for any crimes for which they can be indicted."

Alexander and Warden Olin G. Blackwell agreed to transfer two of the four prisoners—Ralph M. Lepisco and Frederick Freeman Leister Jr.—to other penal institutions, without loss of family visiting privileges.

In response to another demand, Alexander promised to have Justice Department officials review the severity of the 30-year sentence of Robert W. Gorman.

Prison officials also agreed to permit the inmates' grievances to be printed in the Atlanta Journal, to allow the press to make periodic inspection tours of the federal prison and to investigate the prisons food and dining room facilities.

"The objective was to bring out these hostages alive. We brought them out alive," Alexander said.

Alexander and other prison officials refused to promise that the inmates holding the hostages would not be prosecuted after they gave themselves up. "It was like being in a cage with an animal. Thank God, there were a few there who knew how to pray and that's all

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. John M. Peterson, administrator of the state Employment Security Division, said Wednesday that three towns have been removed from the persistent unemployment list.

He said the three are Batesville, De Queen and Mountain Home. Peterson said they were removed due to improved economic conditions last year.

Peterson said the Fort Smith metropolitan statistical area has been removed from the Public Works Grants eligibility list and is no longer eligible for these grants.

Associated Press
SAIGON (AP) — Threats of a new ground attack and 100-rocket barrages fanned the fears of Saigon's three million people today although the Viet Cong spared them for the second straight day.

The enemy's Liberation Radio broadcast warnings that the shelling of the capital would be renewed Monday and would continue for 100 consecutive days with nightly barrages of 100 rockets. It told the Saigonese to flee from the city.

Senior U.S. officials expressed doubt that the Viet Cong was capable of carrying out the rocket threat.

They said that the enemy might be able to get 100 rockets into position for one spectacular bombardment, but they could not possibly keep it up.

There were reports also that Viet Cong infantrymen would renew their attacks on the capital Saturday after laying off a week. Several propaganda leaflets were found in northern Saigon saying guerrillas would seize the area and the residents should go at least 500 yards away from their homes to avoid the fighting.

In light scattered action today, the Viet Cong hurled 20 mortar shells at an ammunition dump four miles northwest of the capital before dawn and shelled two provincial capitals. But Saigon itself had one of its quietest nights since ground and rocket attacks on the city began May 5.

Enemy soldiers captured earlier this month during street fighting in the capital said they had been ordered to pull back June 5 for a 10-day rest period. They said the attack, bolstered by fresh battalions, would resume June 15.

B-52s continued the saturation bombing campaign against North Vietnamese positions in the central highlands near Laos. The eight-engine bombers flew raids Wednesday night and this morning against enemy troops concentrations and gun positions north of Dak To.

In the air war over North Vietnam, American pilots flew 135 missions Wednesday over the southern panhandle. Their primary targets were highways, and trucks and cargo barges.

This convenient frame house has special features that will appeal to the farm family. Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, says the small office near the front door makes a good place for farm business transactions and record keeping. Room sizes and storage spaces are generous. A laundry center, located next to the sleeping area, is convenient to the source of most soiled clothing and linen. The storage room off the carport may be used to store lawn furniture and garden tools. You may screen the paved porch if you wish. The house is arranged so that the homemaker can easily supervise activities in the dining and family areas while she works in the kitchen. You may obtain this plan, developed by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Agricultural

Give her a break and forget her! - H. Dear Helen: May I share with your readers this letter to an unwed father-to-be? Perhaps I won't send it to HIM - there's my pride, you know - but I had to write it. Dear Bob: I never thought I'd ever have to write a letter like this, but how would I know that our relationship would end this way? I honestly believed you when you said you loved me, I felt the same about you, and thought we'd be together through any crisis. I must have had too much faith in you, I haven't seen you for weeks now. Obviously you tired of my love and didn't really care what may have happened as a result. No doubt you have another girl friend now, and I hope you don't hurt her this way. My parents don't know yet, but they may be suspicious when I frequently get morning sickness. It won't be too much longer before I leave here to learn a new life, no longer the naive child I was when I first met you, I still think how you must feel to know that your child will never know his true parents. With God's grace, he will be adopted by loving people, and make a good life for himself so that he doesn't make the same mistake we did. God bless you forever, - LYNN

BUT WILL IT GET OFF THE GROUND? These Russian students have designed and built an "air motorcycle," a plane powered by a 28-horsepower motorbike. So far, the vehicle is in the testing stage and has not been airborne.
